Calling photographers, filmmakers, and visual storytellers!

This is an opportunity to create photographic or video work through exploratory workshops with contemporary Indigenous artists. Inspired by growing networks of care throughout arts communities, Response: Soft Action considers care and its relationship to action.

Workshops will take place online during Summer and Fall 2021, helping participants create original work that will be shown at The Polygon Gallery, North Vancouver in Winter 2022.

How much does it cost? Free!

What do I need in order to participate?

Internet access to attend online workshops, as well as a camera that shoots photographs and video. Phone cameras welcome.

What do I get out of the program?

A chance to exhibit work at an internationally reputed art gallery, and a $250 honourarium! All participants will also receive a free smartphone tripod to be used during Response.

When are the workshops?

All six virtual workshops will be on Saturdays: Jul 17, Jul 24, Sep 18, Oct 2, Oct 30, Nov 6. Participants need to attend minimum four.

Who can register?

Priority is reserved for Indigenous participants. Available spots will be made open to the public in the middle of June. Participants should reside in BC and have an interest or practice in visual/media arts.

How do I sign up? If you have questions or want to register, visit thepolygon.ca or email Nicole at n.brabant@thepolygon.ca. Registration closes Wednesday, June 23, 2021, 9:00 AM.
